Planners Set Parking Study, Send Greenbelt Report To Council

Off-street parking for the business district and acquisition of greenbelt by the city were two matters considered by members of the Carmel Planning Commission yesterday afternoon. They decided to hold a special study session on the parking matter and sent a greenbelt study progress report to the city council.

Chairman Fred Keeble proposed the special session on parking which will be held on June 13 at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. This proposal came after Building Inspector Floyd Adams told commissioners he would have a map showing every available present and future parking space in the business district ready for study by the commission in July.

"We should not sit and wait for the map," Mr. Keeble remarked, and added that while the map is being prepared, the commission should be thinking of a parking solution.

Mr. Adams said that any proposals made by the commission would aid him during the preparation of his map which will show every on-street and off-street parking space now in the commercial zone; every vacant piece of property that could be converted to parking use; and every site now in single-family residence use. It will include tenant, customer and general use.

HONOR POLICE CHIEF

An old-fashioned political rally and chuck wagon dinner will be held Sunday night at the Carmel American Legion Hall honoring Carmel's Police Chief Clyde Klaumann, who is a candidate for Sheriff of Monterey County.

Police officials from a score of other cities in the area have indicated they will be on hand to lend their support to Klaumann's candidacy.

Klaumann, a veteran of 26 years in local law enforcement, is an F.B.I. Academy graduate and former president of the Monterey County Peace Officers Association.

Entertainment and door prizes will highlight the evening's program.

Tickets will be on sale at the door of the Legion Hall, or through the Klaumann Campaign Headquarters, Sixth and Mission, in Carmel. Dinner will be served from 5:00-8:00 o'clock.

Don Blanding And His Friends Lived The Good Old Days Of The Future In Vagabond's House, His Carmel Home

By AL BALL

"Well, kids—what do you think of it?"

Don Blanding's booming voice fairly shook his six two, 220 pound frame with its enthusiasm. Here, at long last, was his Vagabond's House, the first real home he had ever owned, ready to be dressed with all the charm and beauty—and pixie delight that sings through his famous poem, Vagabond's House.

My wife, Armine von Tempski, and I, the very first tenants, were gazing about delightedly at the spacious old board and bat house just off Ocean near the beach. We were fully sensing the free existence that permeated the air, which we were to enjoy for the next couple of years.

"Terrific—just terrific. . ."

Along the mantel of the smudged brick fireplace ran a beautiful gumwood board, carved by Gus DePackh with the letters OLIDGTTTATIM. Above, grinning amiably, was a human skull, flanked by a pure white spunglass ship in delicate full sail. Chinese brass candelabra, elephant bells, shell and mokihana leis spilled around conveniently.

A wide Chinese dish held Chinese lilies in full bloom on a nearby low table, the flowers' delicate fragrance blending with the smoke from a joss stick that Don was lighting in the glowing coals of the manzanita-root fire. Outside, a gentle rain dripped cozily from the shingle roof and a friendly pine bough brushed lightly against the windward side of the house.

Exploring further, we found Don had brought much of the imaginative wonder in his famous poem to life. Blue drapes, handloomed at the famous old Fraser Looms, hung from floor to ceiling. Oriental rugs and Navajo blankets chummed with Chimayo and Chinese weavings. Butterfly fish design was everywhere, on pillows, ashtrays, silhouetted against the gracious bay windows in a mobile.

Warm oils scattered comfortably above pine cones of giant size tucked into corner spots, a wildcat skin was tacked on a closet door, well-thumbed books tumbled in a shelf space — The Sea Wolf, Of Mice and Men, Tortilla Flat, Robinson Crusoe and Ripe Breadfruit, by Armine von Tempski.

We were working on her next. Born in Paradise, destined to be

Del Monte Dog Show Has Largest Entry In 37-Year History

Fifteen hundred and thirty-seven purebred dogs, an increase of 163 dogs over last year, have had their entry fees paid in anticipation of blue ribbons and trophies, also all-coveted points toward championships, obtainable at the Del Monte Kennel Club's 37th Annual All-Breed Dog Show and Obedience Trial, an unbench show, which will be held Sunday on the lawn in front of the Del Monte Lodge, according to Frank Grover, president of the club.

The entrances to the show this year will be manned by representatives of Monterey Peninsula Pets, Inc., an animal welfare and adoption agency which has been operating for more than 20 years on the Peninsula. They will benefit by a percentage of tickets and catalog sales. Mrs. Esther Williams is president of this organization.

Total entries according to groups are: sporting, 224; non-sporting, 174; hound, 292; working, 407; terrier, 141; toy, 198. There is only one rare dog in the miscellaneous group: a Chinese crested dog. In obedience there are 83 entries.

Officers of the Del Monte Kennel Club in addition to Mr. Grover are: Mrs. John Craige, vice-president; Henry Tiedemann, treasurer; Miss Betty Eschen, recording secretary; Mrs. Esther Williams, corresponding secretary.

PUBLIC FORUM

The Association of Carmel Teachers will sponsor a forum for candidates running for the office of county superintendent of schools on Tuesday evening at 8:00 o'clock in the River School cafeteria.

The program will feature addresses by the following: H. G. (Tony) Royal, Dayton Benjamin, Vernon D. Bagley, Ed Coffin, David S. Fernandez and Verna White.

Despite Strike, Junior High May Open This Fall

If construction work can be resumed on Carmel Junior High School by June 4, there is still a chance the new school could be used in time for classes this fall, the Carmel School Board was told last night.

Assistant Superintendent Wayne Greenfield, reporting on a conference he had yesterday with Daniels and House, contractors for the school, who were halted three weeks ago by a labor-management dispute which has stalled construction jobs in Northern California, said that the firm could, if work is resumed early next month, finish enough classrooms for full occupancy, leaving gym, library and administration buildings for later completion.

The construction company would have no objection, Greenfield said, to the district's holding classes on the campus while work on the latter buildings was still continuing.

Also last night the board voted to proceed with plans for an eastward drive access to the new campus, at a saving of some $10,000 to the district compared with an earlier plan, after hearing a report from Howard Wolfe, assistant Monterey County road commissioner.

The drive is actually the one included on the original campus plan, which was moved westward some months ago to the intersection of the Valley Road and the road to Rancho Rio Vista to comply with county plans for a new four-lane highway through the valley before the latter plans "were finalized."

Wolfe said last night, however, that his office now sees no objection to the original school plan. Under questioning from the board, he said the four-lane development, which will begin at Oliver Road and extend past the new campus, is not a high-speed highway (probably retaining its 45 m.p.h. restriction out of the school zone) and

Nancy Lofton To Direct Forest Theater Inchling Production This Summer

Plans for a children's play at the Forest Theater in August, produced under the Carmel Unified School District summer recreation program for children and adults, moved ahead this week with the announcement by William Wakefield, school district recreation director, that Mrs. Richard Lofton has been engaged to direct Inchling, specially written by the late Ira Remsen for Forest Theater production.

The committee hopes to obtain the evenings of August 10 and 11 as dates for the Inchling production at the city-owned theater. Casting will start on June 27 at the Forest Theater, 1:00 - 4:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Grade through high school age children are asked to try out for parts. Crews for making costumes and scenery will also be needed. There is no age limit on this part of the recreation project, also lighting. Mr. Wakefield emphasizes. The desire of the recreation committee is to make the Inchling production a truly community project as it was in its earlier productions at the Forest Theater.

Following this plan, the recreation committee hopes to hold a program design contest as part of the arts and crafts summer recreation projects for which an instructor has been hired.

Only hitch to the Inchling production that has appeared so far is a lack of copies of the play. Any person who has a copy of Inchling, first produced here 40 years ago, also given later productions, all at the Forest Theater, is asked to telephone Mrs. Lofton at MA 4-7170 so that parts may be copied for the cast.

Undefeated after five outings, Manager Art Carpenter's Pilot Market nine is currently riding a two-game margin over Sport Shop and Turner & McEldowney in the Carmel Little League title chase. The grocers disposed of Gerald Artellán's Sport Shop, 3 to 1, in last Friday's crucial clash to take a commanding lead in the first-half pennant drive. Paced by the power hitting of Chuck Pearson and Mitch Kastros, the Pilot gang built up a 3-1 lead in the fourth inning and survived a threatening Sport rally in the sixth when pitcher Ronnie Parsons struck out the side when the bases were loaded with Sport Shop runners. Randy Newman, Rolly Champe and Ted Forbes were the only Sport Shop swingers to connect safely off the Pilot hurlers, each connecting for singles. Newman pitched the entire game for the losers, giving up five hits while walking six and striking out eight.

Newt Goodrich's Boys' Town club hit its stride against Lee McGuckin's P. A. Macs, downing the insurance gang, 9 to 6, as Paul LaGace struck out 11 Macs on the way to the victory. Gary Newton and Mark Sherry were the top hitters for the winners, both stroking a pair of safe blows off the shoots of Ken Little and John Dudley. Troy Spindler hit a round-tripper for the winners while Chris Lalolo found the homer range for the losers.

Wilder & Jones ran afoul of a fired-up Boys' Town crew in Monday night's fray, dropping a 1-0 decision to the clothiers. Jackie Campbell pitched the distance for Boys' Town, getting a near-perfect no-hit no-run game as he struck out 11 plumber batters while giving up but one walk. John Kimbark pitched well enough to win most games as he held the clothiers to six scattered hits while allowing one run. Troy Spindler drove in the winning run for the clothiers, lining out a single to score David Peterson who had walked and advanced to second on Gary Newton's nifty sacrifice bunt.

Jim Kelsey's Turner & McEldowney gang sprouted muscles against the dangerous Sport Shop nine and edged the second-place Sports, 8 to 7, in Tuesday's wild fracas. Jim Grey's homer with two mates aboard was the big punch for the winners and paved the way for pitcher Brian McEldowney to notch his third win of the current campaign. Randy Newman hit a perfect three-for-three for the losers, one of his blows being a four-master over the right-field fence.

Boys' Town goes after three in a row tonight in a 6:00 o'clock game with Sport Shop; P. A. Macs tries Turner & McEldowney in Friday's tilt; Monday evening, Sport Shop tangles with P. A. Macs; and Tuesday Pilot Market tests Boys' Town. No Little League action on Memorial Day.

Odds against a varsity baseball team going through a 19-game schedule and losing them all is hard to figure, but the Carmel High squad defied the odds this season and accomplished the impossible. With their losses to Gonzales and Robert Louis Stevenson in the last two outings, the Padres closed out the sad season which saw victory elude the Red & Gray in its 19-game schedule. Gonzales put the damper on Carmel's victory hopes, 6 to 4, while the strong Robert Louis Stevenson nine powered past Coach Hadley Hicks's charges, 16 to 1, in the season finale. With only outfielder Rance Kaster, infielder Mike Escondon, and pitcher Jim Brown due to graduate this June, the 1963 Padre (Continued on Page Three) baseball squad should look forward to better things.

Pacific Grove racked up their second straight CCAL B-division championship last Saturday as it edged King City at the Mustang diamond. The Breakers compiled a 9-1 record in league play and lost only to the powerful Monterey High Tornadoes in practice sessions. Big Bob Roberts hurled all nine league wins for the Breakers as he put on the most improved performance of any player in the CCAL. Only a sophomore, Roberts will be tough to handle during the next two seasons.

THREE-WAY TIE FOR FARM TEAM LEAD

With two wins in two outings for each team the Carmel Plaza, Derek Rayne, and the Surf 'N Sand are locked up in a deadlock for first place in the Carmel Little League Farm Team play. The Plaza nine clipped Rocky Point Restaurant, 11 to 5; Derek Rayne powered over the American Legion, 25 to 7, in four innings; and Surf & Sand got by the Rockets, 7 to 1. Mission Ranch hit the win column at the expense of Village Inn, topping Manager Pat Dormody's squad, 12 to 11.

Play tightened up considerably in last Saturday's play, only 79 runs crossing the plate in the four games. Last week's opening sessions saw 105 markers recorded during the four contests.

This Saturday's play has Carmel Plaza meeting Village Inn at 10:00; Mission Ranch takes on Surf & Sand at 12; Rocky Point and Derek Rayne clash at 2:00; and the Rockets try the American Legion at 4:00 o'clock.

Gunnar Swanson

Gunnar Friedhof Swanson, 56, died unexpectedly of a heart attack on May 18 in a local hospital. A building contractor here for the past 15 years, he had just returned from a trip to Europe with his wife, the former Jutta Gudula Gabel, whom he married on April 11. Mr. Swanson was born in Lindkoeping, Sweden, on May 11, 1906. He was a noted rugby player in Chicago where he lived before coming to California. He made his home in San Francisco prior to moving to Carmel and during World War II was, for a time, a commercial fisherman. In addition to being a building contractor, he operated an importing business in Carmel for several years. His home was on Rio Road, Hatton Fields Mesa.

He was a member of Balder Lodge No. 393, F.&A.M. of San Francisco.

Besides his wife, he is survived by two children by a former marriage. They are Douglas Swanson of Carmel and Mrs. Priscilla Arruiza of Fullerton; a brother, Sture Lindstrand of San Jose; his father, Axel Lindstrand of Lindkoeping, and other relatives in Sweden.

Funeral services, conducted by the Reverend James R. Spaid of St. Timothy Lutheran Church, were held yesterday afternoon in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea. Burial followed in El Carmelo Cemetery.

Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

WOMAN'S CLUB SPEAKER

Vern Yaden, curator of the Pacific Grove Museum for five years, will speak at the garden section of the Carmel Woman's Club on Monday afternoon, May 28, at 2:00 o'clock.

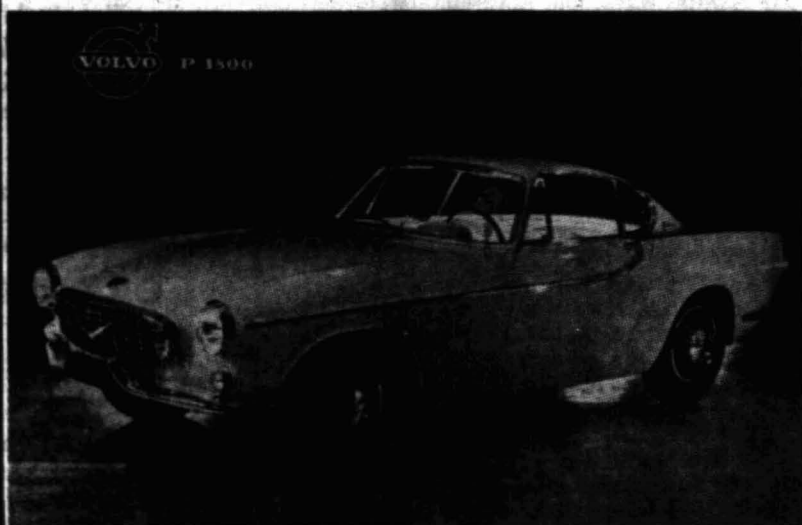

His topic will be Birds in Our Gardens and how to attract them, and Conservation on the Peninsula. Mr. Yaden is a director of the Point Lobos League, and some of the societies he belongs to are the Wild Life Society, the Audubon Society, and the Monterey Bay Chapter of Nature Conservancy. Mrs. H. O. Hansen is the garden section chairman, and this is her last program for the club year.

million dollars for restoration and use of Monterey Monuments; lastly, acquisition of 475 additional acres at a cost of $500,000 for day use facilities on the Salinas River. Proposition 5 will be on the June 5 primaries ballot.

Recovering rapidly following surgery is Superintendent of Carmel Schools Stuart Mitchell, who, according to the best estimates of his friends, members of his office staff and word from his doctor, will return to his duties at least on a part-time basis early next month, just in time for all the graduation excitement.

The public is invited by Community Hospital trustees to attend the dedication of the new hospital facility tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock, also an open house from 8:00-10:00 o'clock the same evening. There will be two more open house events for the public; on Saturday afternoon, 1:00-5:00 o'clock; and on Sunday between the same hours.

Members of the Carmel Youth Center wish to remind residents that they will receive all net proceeds from July sales at the Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services' thrift shop. The teenagers will pick up donations of all kinds of rummage to stock the resale shop. The recreation center's telephone number is MA 4-3285.

The Carmel Board of Realtors has gone on record officially as opposing Proposition 4 on the June 5 ballot, according to Malcolm Foster, president. He also states that Charles H. Brown, president of the 38,000-member California Real Estate Association, has sent word that other boards throughout the state are opposing this ballot measure.

Proposition 4 is the housing for the aged and physically handicapped measure.

The city council, Monday, will hold a public hearing on an appeal from a planning commission decision which permitted the division of beach land south of the foot of Ocean Avenue into three 4,000 square foot building sites.

The hearing was to have been held last week but attorneys requested the matter be continued until the later date.

The land in question is owned by Anita Doud and Mrs. Kathleen Watson. Petitioners against the use permit establishing the building sites are residents in the vicinity of the land.

Time of the hearing will be 8:00 o'clock in the evening, place, city hall.

Carmel's share of State gasoline tax revenues during the past fiscal year amounted to $14,805.46. The amount was allocated as follows: $13,805.46 for street construction and maintenance; $1,000 for engineering.

ORCHESTRA AUDITIONS

Instrumentalists will have an opportunity to audition for the 1962 Bach Festival orchestra on Saturday, when Conductor Sandor Salgo will be here to supervise the tryouts. Interested musicians may call Bach Festival headquarters at MA 4-3437 to arrange an audition appointment.

Auditioners are expected to come prepared with a selection from the standard repertoire, and will also be asked to demonstrate their sight reading abilities.

This year the Bach Festival will take place July 20-29, and extensive orchestral rehearsals will begin on July 9.

AFA Children's Show An Imaginative And Exuberant Delight

The collection of Peninsula schoolchildren's paintings, collages and drawings which has been assembled by the American Federation of Arts and is on exhibit at the Monterey Fairgrounds is a delight.

Ages represented are from nursery school through the sixth grade, and the pictures run the gamut from pure, but lively, representation into the wildest and most exuberant abstract design. Here is everything from the world and imagination of children: storms, dreams (including nightmares!), houses on fire, ships at sea, animals, cowboys and clowns. Almost all the work is executed with boldness, freedom and an untrammelled and joyous use of color.

Twenty-five out of the 260 pictures have been chosen for exhibit in San Francisco, thence to be shown in Mexico, Europe and Japan in a traveling show of American children's art.

Meanwhile, the exhibit will remain at the fairgrounds through the week end and to see it is an exhilarating and refreshing experience which should not be missed.

RIVER SCHOOL TUMBLERS

Proud and appreciative parents, relatives and friends attended a program of tumbling given by River School students in the Sunset School auditorium Tuesday evening.

The agile performers, whose instructor, Mrs. Gyla Smith, announced the program, were first to sixth graders, some of whom have been tumbling for four years, some for only four weeks. They executed all sorts of stunts and acrobatics, from forward rolls (beginners) to handsprings and headsprings (advanced students).

The tumblers, all girls with the exception of two nimble clowns, Douglas Snyder and Peter Kelly, were divided into three groups, according to the length of their experience.

Beginners: Randy Smith, Ginny Smith, Cynthia Washer, Julie Dixon, Kathleen Luch, Joan Cross, Holly Irvin, Debby Snyder, Cassie Harkins, Susan Dean, Judy Chandler.

Intermediates: Candace Murland, Roma Sprung, Pam Stewart, Susan Replogle, Betsy Bruce, Barbara Thompson.

Advanced group: Shirley Bucher, Alesia Smith, Susan McCarther, Betsy Harkins, Connie Wermuth, Judy Snyder, Carol Heisel, Nancy Coss.

Don Blanding And His Friends Lived In Vagabond's House

a best seller and book club selection.

Don's study, an alcove off the main room, held drawing board, paints, inks and the tools of his magnificent pattern work. He worked at any hour of the day or night, contributing at times to the living room conversation if guests were there, or getting up for a "break" while he told an anecdote. Or he might stop during daylight hours for a flying drive to Point Lobos or Big Sur, just to breathe the beauty of the enchanted coastline.

It proved to be a house of work, fun and play. The dining room table, a great eight-foot circle, fairly groaned with fine food—well seasoned curries by Armine with 20-odd condiments flanking the steaming plates, steaks broiled right in the fireplace by yours truly with Don and Armine assisting nobly in a tyro's efforts toward perfection.

To further the cause of good eating, the guests came heavy laden, or with a bit of good cheer such as a case of beer, a gallon of good sherry, a bottle of bourbon or a fine liqueur.

One, Jack H— was a most fabulous provider. Jack had a passion for beautiful women, interesting people, fine food and hunting. Being a fireman he could trade time with others in such a way as to gain vacations for weeks on end, most of which he spent at Vagabond's House, or hunting. He came booming in at all hours without warning, to spend a week or a month, we never knew. We were only sorry when his visit terminated as suddenly as it began. His contributions in good fellowship and gourmet's fare were without equal.

Fresh from the hunt, Jack might arrive with a tub full of mussels, or abalone, or pismo clams. Or wild duck, venison, or a mess of fresh-caught trout. His dedication to friends and good food was wonderful, and on one of his longer visits he hit an all time high.

It was a house habit to read aloud, play hulas and other songs (Armine and I both enjoyed playing guitar) or indulge in philosophic viewpoints until midnight or later. One went to sleep when the mood was on him, and did so without social inhibitions.

We all hit it off finely, but Jack had a habit of getting up at 3:00 o'clock in the morning and easing out of the house. This wakened me often enough that I finally challenged him quietly about it. His reply was mysterious.

"Well, don't tell anyone else. They haven't heard me," he grunted. "Dunno if I can do it. I'm after a wild boar—heard they were thick up here. But it's hard to hunt them without a hound, kinda tough."

By solid perseverance he shot one, a 300-pound beauty, about three weeks later. What a dinner that was! A truly regal occasion, the rafters of Vagabond's House ringing to the overflowing enjoyment of the most beloved people imaginable!

Crowded around the expansive table were Freddy Burt, retired leading man for Maude Adams, and his wife Helen Ware, who was a star for years in Belasco's Third Degree—both a "must" on the Vagabond's guest list. The then editor-owner of The Pine Cone, Ranny Cockburn, and his wife, Bonney, Howard Lewis from Dodd Mead completely unable to discuss Don's forthcoming book with the joyous poet host, all were there and to top it off a group of Hawaiian singing boys had wandered through on their way to an engagement at the Mark in San Francisco.

It was a splendid wild boar banquet!

Aside from the regulars already mentioned, the variety of people who came to that open, hospitable door was amazing, a constant flow of artists and would-be artists, some just real people—all fun to know and interesting.

There was a young fellow and his sister, Jack and Mary Eaton, who ran a very creditable puppet show on a semi-starvation basis, and a budding artist who dropped in with 40 canvases. He stayed a week and sold three fourths of them, the first sales he had made! Hank, a bearded Esquire writer and his gal Dorothy came in from Taos. I caught sight of his beard as he reared up from digging a ditch, and slammed the car to a stop in the middle of the street.

"Hank! What are you doing in Carmel?"

"Diggin' for beans and a jug of wine," he grinned sweatily. "And you?"

"Working with De Packh, the woodcarver down the street—come in and talk!"

Hank and Dorothy (Comingore) were a couple who made good. She was a delicate, beautiful elf who had aspirations for the theatre, and Charlie Chaplin happened to catch her in a Little Theatre play in Carmel. She became a movie star. Hank was signed up by Columbia Pictures as a writer, but the cruel hands of money and commerce split them up in some way.

Great and small seemed to mingle without judgment. Seldom-seen Steinbeck came, Barrett Willoughby or Charmian London zoomed through to have a talkfest and tell of the latest doings. George Palmer Putnam and his wife always stopped by to discuss stories with Armine, or just to enjoy the gracious hospitality of Vagabond's House.

Some days, we had cocktails at a retired Saturday Evening Post editor's home, went on to Martin Flavin's and met a new authoress.

I'll never forget William Ritschel's story of a trip he made in a small boat to the South Seas. The whole crew came down with severe illness—except Ritschel. His dynamic eyes sparkled.

"You know why? I wash in rum! I drink rum! I brush my teeth in rum! An' I don't get sick!!!"

But, perhaps, the most beloved of all the wondrous crew was an old dog, Pal was his name, I believe. Pal was 150 pounds of mongrel, sort of a mastiff, loved by the whole town. He would laze around Ocean Avenue and be petted and fed, in scandalous complacent domination of Carmel-by-the-Sea. Everyone was on his side!

But, no, some person raised a hue and cry that old Pal had no license. The pound at Monterey, having no choice, sent the truck over and took lovable old Pal away, put him in the hoosegow, and ignored his inquiring eyes except to feed him well. Carmelites promptly went to bat for their friend, and bailed him out with collected pennies.

Resplendent in new collar and license, old Pal wagged his way up and down Ocean Avenue with no further fear of the pound. Fear? He enjoyed the whole thing! Every time the pound wagon came will be exhibited at the Laky Galleries on San Carlos Street starting on Saturday and continuing through June 16. The galleries are open to the public at no cost daily from 11:00 o'clock in the morning until 5:00 in the afternoon.

Lahner, like Renaissance painters, has been intrigued by experiments and techniques. In turn, he has used mediums including gouache with soft varnish, dry point, wood engraving, and aqua-relle to express his ideas. He has painted with egg white, wax and employed batik styles.

In his youth, he was a follower of the Impressionists, then became a cubist with Braque and Picasso, now has sharpened his sights, simplified his forms, made his lines more precise.

Included in his show here are nude studies, still lifes and landscapes.

Collages by Jean Varda, Sausalito collagist, are on exhibition at the Coast Gallery, Big Sur, through Sunday.

Varda arrived at the Sur this week to start a four-day seminar on color Tuesday at the downcoast gallery.

Seventy-five artists of the San Francisco Bay area will show their work in a series of one-man exhibitions during June, July and August at the San Francisco Museum of Art. Titled The Arts of San Francisco, the series of shows will feature outstanding artists in the fields of painting, sculpture, print making, architecture, landscape architecture, photography, graphic and industrial design and design crafts.

An exhibition of Japanese prints from the collection of Lieutenant Colonel Earl L. House and his son Kinji are currently being shown at the Monterey Peninsula chapter of American Federation of Arts headquarters, Lincoln and Ocean.

The prints, on display until May 28, include wood blocks of 12 representative Kabuki Plays by Hasegawa III and landscapes by Kawase, Tsuchiya, Tokurki, Yoshida, Ueno and other printmakers well known to Japanese print collectors.

AFA president Admiral Charles Wheelock and Mrs. Wheelock were responsible for hanging the show. The AFA gallery is open from 10:00-4:00 o'clock daily and 1:00-4:00 on week ends.

Dr. Charles N. Pearson of Carmel has been appointed area coordinator for the third annual photo contest of the California Optometric Association.

Cash prizes will be offered for pictures interpreting The Wonderful World of Vision. Both amateur and professional photographers are encouraged to submit entries before August 1, 1962, the closing date. Further information may be obtained from Dr. Pearson.

There is an exhibition of plaster heads, created by Monterey Peninsula College's first classes in sculpture, in the library reading room on campus, to remain through the end of the month.

Ranging from representational to abstract to humorous, the works were created by students in four evening classes under the direction of Arch Garner, Carmel Valley sculptor.

The public is invited to view the exhibition between the hours of 8:00 and 5:00 o'clock daily and from 6:30 through 9:00 in the evening, Monday through Thursday.

The fountain court of the new Community Hospital will contain a sculpture of fish by Emile Norman of Big Sur.

Music On The Peninsula

BY MARY LINDSAY-OLIVER

A brilliant and outstanding piano recital last Saturday was the annual free offering to the community of the Carmel Music Society. Omus Hirshbein, who three years ago was in training at Fort Ord, was heard here at that time, then went to Rosina Lhevinne in New York for further study. His development has been enormous.

From the startling strength of the chords that opened the Bach

Partita in C minor (every part of which was conveyed with fine perception and tonal dexterity) to the flashing phrases of the final Prokofiev Sonata in one movement, the gifted young pianist produced every degree of nuance with both strength and tenderness of touch, and above all with an inner vision far ahead of most of his peers.

Indeed, the feeling, passion and sensitivity with which he interpreted was evidence of the whole man giving himself body and soul to the intent of the composers in the drama of their compositions.

Where notes, speed and dynamics often overpass the deeper meanings, Hirshbein produced the poetic thought and picture convincingly. This was especially true of the Beethoven Sonata in A major. Each movement gained greater and greater intensity and emotional meaning, while the sustained Largo Appassionata became the vehicle for beautiful, controlled sound and passionate feeling—extraordinary attainment.

In one of the Chopin numbers, later, he left his audience almost breathless. Modern speed of interpretation often loses the intimate beauty of Chopin's phrases, but not in Hirshbein's brilliant playing, especially in the Scherzo in B minor.

Two Debussy Preludes were of the delicacy of spun glass under his relaxed and sensitive fingers, and his pedaling effects throughout his whole performance were prodigious.

The audience, entirely entranced, recalled him for two extra Scarlatti sonatas, then flocked backstage to congratulate the artist. Among them was his former confrere, the now famous pianist, Robert Browning. The presence of these two young American pianists among us at one time was an interesting event. The many members of the society who did not attend missed the best concert of the 1961-62 series.

Before the recital Mrs. Rhea

Dively, president, conducted a short business meeting.

Many local music lovers know that last June Mrs. Jouett Shouse, head of the President's People to People music activity, generously gave 40 acres of beautiful woodlands close to Washington, D.C. for the National Symphony League's permanent headquarters. This gift now entails erecting an adequate building. Edward Durrell Stone of New York has been chosen as the architect. League secretary, Helen Thompson (who next month will be at Asilomar for three weeks with the sixth year of the league's annual workshop for composers, conductors, musicians and critics), recently has sent out a plea for funds for this building and requested all newspapers and critics to help publicize the nationwide appeal for contributions. The league assists musicians, orchestras, composers, conductors and represents, today, over 1,200 symphony orchestras throughout the United States and Canada, as compared to about 30 in 1900.

The new headquarters will establish a national research and service center for these orchestras, and related activity. Foundations, business organizations, radio stations, publishers, and individuals are contributing to this important cultural effort which will be a significant impetus for music in this country.

Contributions should be made out and sent to the American Symphony Orchestra League Building Fund, P.O. Box 775, Radio City Station, New York 19, N.Y. Any contribution will be tax deductible and names of donors will be recorded for posterity in the building.

Mean temp: 40° below zero

On an August day in Santa Cruz, you can walk down Pacific Avenue past the Wells Fargo Bank to the beach—and find it's a balmy 85° in the shade of your beach umbrella. At the same moment, a thermometer a mile away may register 40° below zero! That's the ideal freezing temperature for Brussels sprouts—a Santa Cruz specialty worth $4,300,000 a year to the coastline farmers.

From apples to zucchini, crops bring almost $42 million a year into this one county, while around the cities of Santa Cruz and Watsonville 79 processing plants freeze, can or pack the produce.

Throughout Northern California the pattern is repeated. Here food is a strong, solid, soaring business that paid almost two billion dollars in farm cash receipts last year, and that sent almost 250,000 carloads of fresh, frozen, and canned fruits and vegetables to market in this country and abroad.

The sturdy growth in agriculture is true in construction, transportation, power, in all the long-established industries. And every day new ones blaze trails across the sky, under the earth, in laboratory and open field.

This diverse, dynamic Northern California is Wells Fargo country. We know it from Eureka to King City, from San Francisco to the Sierra. It has always been our own special land—its people and its promise our first concern.

Don Blanding And His Friends Lived In Vagabond's House

(Continued from Page Five) through, Pal promptly jumped to the front seat and rode in splendor to a free handout in Monterey and was chauffeured back! Like the vital people we knew in those days, Old Pal left his stamp on the way of life.

One day Armine and I were watching a great, rolling sea thundering on miles of the white beach, and she spoke softly . . .

"These splendid people, the wonderful things that happen every day! These are the good old days of the future!"

How right she was! OLIDGT-TFTATIM . . . as Don Blanding's mantle proclaimed. The meaning? These are the first letters of the words

"Oh, Lord, I do give Thee thanks for the abundance that is mine!"

And so Don did, and we, too, remembering those early never-to-be-repeated days, so richly beautiful in Vagabond's House, in Carmel-by-the-Sea.

(Editor's Note: Visiting in Carmel this week end is Al Ball, who lived and wrote in Carmel in the late 30's. Mr. Ball now lives in Manhattan Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spencer now live in Don Blanding's Vagabond House.)

Peruvian Red Cross National Officer To Visit Local Chapter

Miss Maria Grana Ottone, president of the Auxiliary Volunteer Services of the Peruvian National Red Cross, a position she has held for more than a decade, will be the guest of the Carmel chapter on Monday.

Miss Grana, who arrived in the United States early in May, spent her first week in Washington, D.C., at the headquarters of The American National Red Cross, then proceeded to Seattle where she attended the Red Cross National Convention. She is to be in the San Francisco area until her arrival here by air on Monday.

Mrs. Charles Strosnider, volunteer chairman for the Carmel chapter, met Miss Grana at the national convention in Seattle and will be her hostess while she is in Carmel. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. W. Nason, who have spent a great deal of time in Peru, will be co-hosts. Miss Grana understands the English language perfectly but speaks it with some hesitancy. Edgar Bisantz will join the welcoming party at the airport, to meet Miss Grana and conduct the group to Fort Ord where the guest will have an opportunity to see the Carmel volunteers in action at the bloodmobile on the military post.

With an academic background in the field of social work, Miss Grana has expanded her interests to a wide variety of volunteer services. Advanced information indicates the following fields: administration and operation of service programs, blood program, first aid, home nursing, Junior Red Cross, fund raising, public relations and membership recruitment.

The Peruvian Red Cross Society, founded on April 17, 1879, was the first Red Cross society to be organized in the Americas. The society has an active volunteer program, offers a variety of courses in home nursing, nurses' aides, first aid, swimming and water safety. They maintain dental centers, provide medico-social assistance and are active in disaster relief. There is an active Junior Red Cross program.

Luncheon plans for Miss Grana will include chapter volunteer leaders after which the guest will visit the chapter. A tour of the scenic points of the Peninsula, followed by dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nason, will conclude the day. Dinner guests will be Miss Gra-

YOU'RE MAKING A BIG MISTAKE IF YOU'RE NOT DRINKING 80 PROOF GIN!

If you think higher proof means higher quality — that's a mistake.

If you think you have to pay more money to get a better gin — that's a mistake.

If you think the gin the English drink is more than 80 proof — that's a mistake.

You should know, to begin with, that America is the only civilized country in the world that drinks high-proof gin. The British, who perfected gin, wouldn't think of it! They know that gin has an ideal taste and flavor balance at a milder, smoother 80 proof. Here's the whole story:

80 PROOF GIN TASTES BETTER

"Proof" is no measure of quality. It's a measure of alcohol content alone. (100 proof means 50% alcohol.) Alcohol itself has no flavor. The pleasant taste of gin comes entirely from the herbs with which it's distilled.

The best test of gin is to drink it straight or on-the-rocks. You'll find 80 proof gin has the big taste advantage of 80 proof mildness — with the same full flavor of higher proof gins.

80 PROOF GIN COSTS LESS

Gins are taxed by the U.S. on their proof or alcohol content, only. The lower the proof — the lower the taxes, and the lower the cost to you. When you buy an imported label, you add the cost of shipping and duties. That pushes the price even higher, without giving you 80 proof quality.

80 PROOF GIN MAKES BETTER MARTINIS

It makes them extra dry, as you like them, but not extra strong. Twenty years ago, the 3-to-1 Martini was standard. Today, with the trend to dryer Martinis, they're made 6-, 7-, even 8-to-1. As a result the modern Martini has climbed from a smooth 76.5 proof to an overwhelming 84 proof! Solution? Mix with 80 proof gin. It gives you the same full, dry gin flavor, but it returns the Martini to its original, more moderate proof.

80 PROOF GIN MAKES BETTER TALL DRINKS

When you mix a tall drink, like a Collins or a gin 'n tonic, you dilute the strength of the gin "to taste." You also mix for balance of flavor. 80 proof gin will give you better balance. You don't have to drown it to drink it.

HOW TO MAKE DRY MARTINIS MAKE MORE SENSE

Using Standard 36 Proof Dry Vermouth	Using 80 Proof Dry Gin	Using 80 Proof Dry Gin (or Vodka)
3 — to — 1 (Traditional)	76.5 Proof	69.0 Proof
5 — to — 1 (Dry)	81.0 Proof	72.6 Proof
8 — to — 1 (Extra Dry)	84.0 Proof	75.1 Proof

(The "standard" proof for today's bottled Martinis is a moderate 67.5 proof!)

OLD MR. BOSTON IS THE FINEST GIN YOU CAN BUY

It's vacuum distilled at an unusually low temperature in special glass-lined stills. Only at such a low temperature, is it possible to capture the most delicate essence of the herbs. This is one reason for Old Mr. Boston's flavor distinction. It is America's first and largest-selling 80 proof Dry Gin!

Chief Smith Lauds Volunteer Firemen In Council Report

Members of the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department have answered 101 fire alarms since July 1961, approximately one every three and a half days; attended 37 drills, and responded to 112 calls for the Red Cross ambulance. This activity is a considerable increase over last year, according to the report presented to the city council by Fire Chief Robert E. Smith. From July 1960 to July 1961 there were 39 fire alarms; 30 drills; and 97 ambulance calls.

Chief Smith attributes much of the added activity to continued growth in population and transient traffic; the sunniest, warmest weather in ten years; low gasoline prices for ten months; an abnormally large number of electrical fires caused by increased use of electrical appliances; and shopping complex additions to the business district.

His report continued with the statement that the fire department has endeavored to stay within its assigned budget even though this meant taking a calculated risk by summoning volunteers by a "still no-alarm" system for certain calls such as gasoline washdowns, instead of sounding a general alarm. This resulted in delays but was necessary to keep the department within its 1961-62 budget.

The report was presented to the council in order to aid it in its coming 1962-63 budget sessions. Chief Smith indicated in this respect that as the city's transient element continues to grow, and with it the number of potential fire incidents, this means increased fire department expenses.

As proof of this he pointed out that the warmer weather this year, plus low gasoline prices for ten months, caused some persons to develop "a fill'er-up philosophy." Warm temperatures caused gasoline to expand and overflow onto the street from the full tanks. One carelessly discarded match or cigarette could then start a conflagration or explosion. Of the 38 washdown alarms since last July for this reason, half originated from transient visitors to the city.

Secondly, new buildings of the restaurant-tourist type are high fire incident developments. This year the fire department has answered eight general alarms to Carmel Plaza, four to the Doud Arcade and two to Lincoln Lane.

He stated that expanded public audience activities have resulted in asking a larger number of volunteers to provide fire prevention coverage for special events. So far this budget year, a total of 261 man-hours have been expended for this purpose at Sunset School auditorium alone. Demands on the department's fire prevention bureau are up 75 percent over last year.

Of the 112 calls for the Red Cross ambulance (40 percent more than last year), 35 percent were for nonresidents.

He also reported that the increased activity of the department has caused a large increase in personal injuries among the volunteer firemen, a total of 34 separate incidents.

Fire department officers, in an effort to reduce injuries and increase efficiency in volunteer fire work, undertook a three-week refresher first aid course and a five-week state industrial education program in spite of the fact the fire department was confronted with budgetary limitations. Since January 1, these safety drills have meant 1,050 extra man-hours of volunteer work.

In conclusion, Chief Smith pointed out in his council report that although Carmel's transient element has grown and with it the number of potential fire incidents, the department has made every effort to stay within its assigned budget and there have been no complaints from the volunteer firemen, no delays in their prompt response to calls.

"I am sure the city council joins me in commending them for their loyal and unselfish service to the City of Carmel," he ended.

MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS SOCIETY FUND DRIVE

The National Multiple Sclerosis Society's 1962 Hope Chest campaign opened May 13 and will run until June 17. During this month-long drive the society hopes to raise funds to support and stimulate research in multiple sclerosis, a neurological disease which mainly strikes persons in the 20-40 age group and the cause of which is unknown. Effective treatment, as yet, has not been developed for the chronic, progressive disabling disease which, it is estimated, now afflicts 500,000 Americans.

Assemblyman Joseph C. Shell, above, minority leader in the Assembly, is a Republican candidate for Governor of California. He was captain of the undefeated 1939 football team at the University of Southern California which won the Rose Bowl game the same year. "In the Rose Bowl, we told unscathed-on Tennessee where we were going, then did it," Shell declares, and adds that he is using the same tactics in his campaign for nomination for Governor in the June primaries.

MPC DRAMA DEPARTMENT GIVES PLAY

Chop Suey, Monterey Peninsula College drama department's spring production, opened in the Little Theatre on Campus Monday for a week-long run culminating Saturday.

Directed by drama instructor Richard Frazer, the original variety show features some 25 acts representing the singing, dancing, musical and dramatic talent of the college.

Several humorous skits are presented, and a magic act (Skip Bemis and John Morse) is one of the highlights of the show.

Included in the large lineup of performing students are Mela and Chris Ferrer and Mary Gannon, all of Carmel. Mela Ferrer is also production assistant.

REFINER'S FIRE

*When this green fades
The hidden fire will glow,
Fairer than spring's first buds
That flowering of flame,
Sweeter than May
That blossoming of captive sunlight
When the trees stand like good lives,
Wearing sunset
Before night,
When, unreluctant, the leaves
Loosen their grasp,
One by one, falling like days...*

*Refined by fire,
How beautiful the revealing
Of the final clean true structure.*

—EDITH LODGE

THE IMAGE OF MAN'S REDEMPTION

*Thoughts are faster than symbols.
Words lag leagues behind
When the whole mind lights up
The image thought enshrined.*

Write what has to be said.
Thought is rushing onward,
The image all but fled.*

*Back from the dimming distance
Felt is the thought sublime:
The course of man's redemption, —
A cross, a stone, and time.*

—JOHN M. CARTWRIGHT

WHIRLPOOL

*The swirling years become meandering turns through roots of tangled grass, rising to leave wet rings on rocks too large to roll.
They smooth a curve of sand, or undercut an elm, then fade into the swale to hold a bittern's nest and cover doors behind which small ones sleep secure from landward prow.*

—L. RADSLIFF

THE SENTINELS

*Blue hills embraced by veils of haze,
Mysterious hills as old as time,
Survivors since the ancient flood;
Though worn by wind and chilled with rime.
They stand as sentinels on guard,
Alert through centuries of strife
While men have cast a net of death
Upon the earth and smothered life.*

—LUCILE VALOIS

JAPANESE BRUSH WORK

*Small grey cherry bough
Set with ruby-throated bird
Among the blossoms.
Suddenly his note is heard,
Then the artists' brush grows still.*

—SARAH SLOAN GREEN

FROM A
LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

Something new has been added to the service plan of your library, namely reading glasses in the adult reading room. As a beginning, two really excellent reading aids have been installed on the center table. If they are used, and seem to be a help to our patrons, we may be able to install more of them. In shape, they are rectangular, and are supposed to be the correct width to span the width of the average book, or two columns of a newspaper. Users will find that to slant the glass slightly may bring the page into sharper focus. Patrons using the glasses will no doubt learn just the angle which brings them the greatest help.

Reading for long periods of time will strain the best eyes, and glasses such as these should be a help to many readers in the library. They are attached to the table by chains, for reasons we shall not elucidate, but the chains are six feet long for the convenience of the reader. We hope you use these gadgets and that they prove to be a comfort to you.

Many people are concerned about our schools, what they teach and how they teach it. For a standing-on-the-inside, looking-on-the-outside view of the public schools, read Never Tease a Dinosaur by Joseph Hannan. This is the funny side of life in an elementary school. Joe Hannan taught fourth grade, and in teaching fourth grade he learned all the horrible and all the idiotic things that can happen to a teacher. From the first day of school in the fall to the last day of school before summer vacation, funny things happened to Joe Hannan. Read Never Tease a Dinosaur and cheer up.

A novel of the South Pacific is Fia Fia by James Ramsey Ullman. The title means "happy times". Residents of this area may be better able than most to appreciate the story because it deals with the ruining of an idyllic area by the coming in of too many people with too many commercial ideas. In this case the spot was a lovely island in the South Seas.

Catch 22 is the title of a book by a new writer named Joseph Heller. The action takes place during the last days of World War II and the actors are Air Force personnel on a small island off the coast of Italy.

The island scene, for a third time this week, is the island of Pala in the South Pacific where Aldous Huxley bases his new novel. This is a story of a paradisaical existence. The title of the book is The Island.

There are two more novels by established writers. The first one is a new book by Margaret Campbell Barnes which is entitled The King's Bed, and the action of which takes place about the time of Richard II in England. Historical novels by this author are carefully researched and well written. Another careful writer of historical novels has this time turned his attention to projecting himself into history as it might be after an atomic war. Lawrence Schoonover has done a book a bit like Nevil Shute's On the Beach. Entitled Central Passage, it deals with possible action after a 20-minute war in which much of the world has been destroyed. This is a novel of survival.

There are two new mysteries, too, and many others. Come and see.

The Greers Are Back From Italy

After a year and a half in Italy, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Greer recently returned to Carmel with their seven-months-old son, John, who was born near Pisa in the little town of Calambrone.

Mrs. Greer, the former Eloise Rainer, and her husband, who has been stationed with the United States Army in Italy, were married in Rome in October, 1960. (This event was immortalized in Carmel through the publication of a request, in verse, to the Carmel school board by Eloise's brother, Frederic Rainer, Carmel High School teacher, that he be granted a leave of absence to fly to Rome with his wife to attend the wedding.)

Since then the Greers have seized many chances while they were in Italy to travel in Germany, England, France, and especially Italy itself, where, according to Mrs. Greer, "we explored all sorts of little out of the way places unnoticed by tourists, and of course this was so easy with an expert linguist in the family." Her husband, who formerly studied Italian at the Army Language School in Monterey, was an official interpreter with the Army in Italy.

Mrs. Greer's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Rainer of Carmel, flew over to Italy last fall for little John's arrival, and stayed with the Greers until March, when they all came back to the United States. Mrs. Rainer then returned to Carmel by air, while the Greers crossed the country by car, visited Mr. Greer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Brisson, in St. Paul, Minnesota, and the World's Fair in Seattle on their way back to Carmel.

This summer Mr. Greer will attend a training program with a brokerage firm in San Francisco, and Mrs. Greer and the baby will stay on in Carmel. Plans for the future depend upon what office of the firm Mr. Greer will be associated with.

Dutch Newspaperwoman Here

In Carmel for three days this week was Miss T. A. Voute, a visitor from the Netherlands. She is a fashion feature writer for the Amsterdam Telegraph, a morning paper, also writes articles on homes and interviews with women artists.

Miss Voute first spent a week in New York, then ten days in San Francisco before coming here where she was enchanted by the scenery and the houses. She plans to write about both for her paper when she returns home. The individuality of Carmel homes intrigued her and she spent time gathering pictures of both exteriors and interiors to publish on the women's page of her paper in Holland.

CARMEL HIGH P-TA

Fifty-two members of the Carmel High School Parent-Teacher Association met Monday night in the high school cafeteria and debated the pros and cons of remaining part of the P-TA or of forming an independent parents' club. Following this discussion, a secret ballot showed that 34 members preferred to remain affiliated with the P-TA and 18 wanted an independent organization. Therefore, the High School Parent-Teacher Association will continue as before.

Larry Rose, president, reports that the executive board has been authorized to submit a slate of nominations by mail to all members of the association. The officers for 1962-63 will be announced at a later date.

New CHS Student Body Officers

Last week the student body at Carmel High School elected new officers. Jeff McKenna is president. Stan Smith is vice president; Gay Beauchamp, secretary; Pat Myers, treasurer.

New commissioners are Tashia Seeders, social affairs; Kathy Burkett, publicity; Barbara Murphy, girls' athletics; Bob Larson, boys' athletics.

Cheerleaders and songleaders were also elected. Barbara Giles heads the cheerleaders who include Pat Crane, Sandee Gimbel, Ann Kraus and alternate Jane Martin.

Maxa Tadlock, head songleader, will be aided by Joanne Creighton, Barbara Klaus, Georgeanne Demarest and alternate Sue Mason.

Harrison Back to U.S. in July

Army Specialist Four Harrison S. Hilbert will sail from Korea back to the United States on July 17. After reporting to his new base (which he hopes will be somewhere in the northwest "because of the hunting and fishing") he will have a month's leave at home visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hilbert, when he isn't off in the back country with a gun—because if things work out right, this leave will be during deer season, of course!

Meanwhile Harrison, with other men in the 1st Division's 8th Cavalry, recently took part in Army training tests in Korea, and since then has enjoyed 14 days of "R and R" (rest and recreation) in Japan.

Harrison, a forward observer in Company E of the cavalry, is a 1960 graduate of Carmel High School who entered the Army in November 1960, completed basic training at Fort Ord, and went overseas in April 1961.

Wins Journalism Award

Ron Barker, Monterey Peninsula College student from Carmel, accepted a silver medal award at Sacramento in the California State Fair's Second Annual Spring Festival Collegiate Press Competition. Publisher Bert J. Abraham, vice president of the fair board, made the presentation. Barker was editor of the MPC student newspaper, El Yanqui, for the issues which won the award. A graduate of Carmel High School, he is a journalism major at the local college.

Dyer-Bennets Visit

Weekend guests at the Carmel Highlands home of Dr. and Mrs. Russell Williams were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dyer-Bennet of Walnut Creek, who were here with two of their three children, John and Cynthia. Their older son, Oliver, 17, stayed at home because he was "involved in flying model airplanes."

Mr. Dyer-Bennet, an architect, was here to draw preliminary plans for the rebuilding of a guest house on the Williamses' property which was destroyed by fire three months ago.

David Home From Guam "Visit"

Mr. and Mrs. William Rosenkranz of Carmel recently met their son, David, at the San Francisco airport on his return by jet from a "short visit" to Guam. That is, David had planned a short visit last summer when he went over to stay with his sister, Darlene, and her husband, Chief Supply Officer Lee Horsman, who are stationed there. As it turned out, he decided to spend nine months in Guam, where he completed his junior year of high school.

While David was there, he made friends with a Hawaiian family who invited him to spend three days at their home in Honolulu on his way back to California. They showed him the sights of the island as no ordinary tourist would see them, but David reports that Waikiki Beach "cannot compare with our Carmel beach."

After greeting friends in Carmel (many Carmel High School classmates were part of his welcoming committee at the airport), David and his parents left for a vacation that took them to Oregon, Montana and Idaho. He will be back at Carmel High School for his senior year next fall.

Hagemeyer News

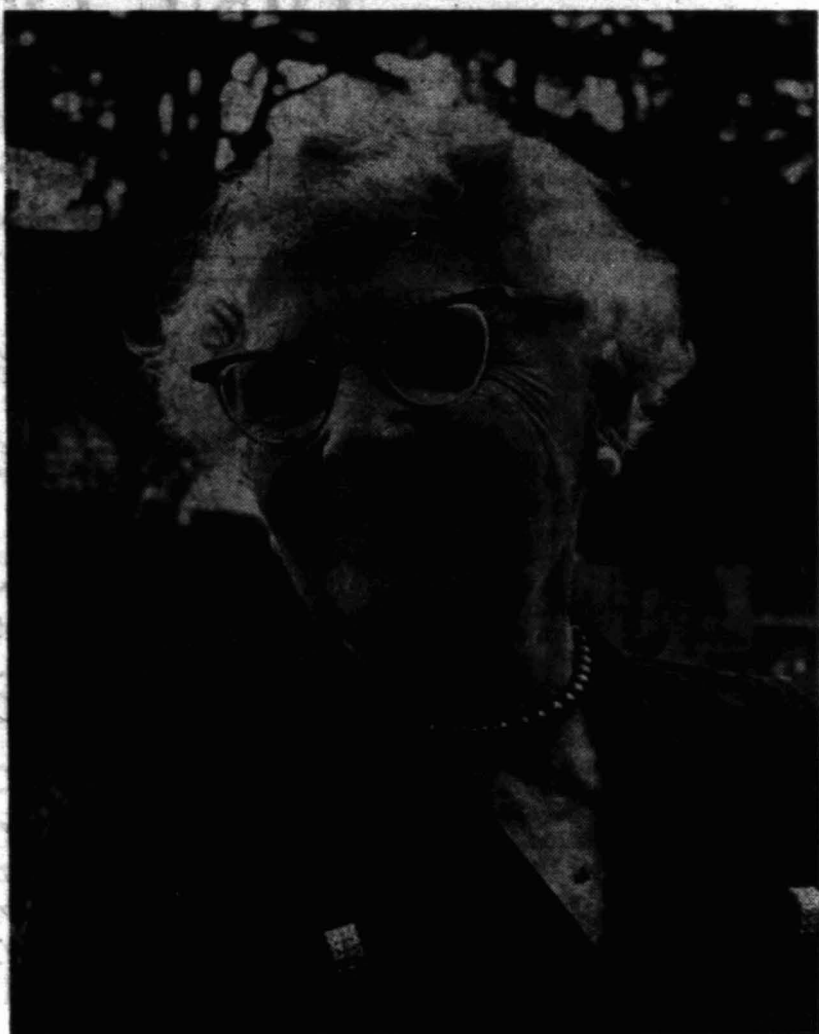

Mrs. Louis Mayer reports that her son, Max Hagemeyer, has just been appointed superintendent of the Columbia School District in Tuolumne County. He and his wife and their two daughters, Kathleen, 14, and Kristine, 11, who have been living in Nevada City where Max was an administrator in the Nevada County school system, will make their home in Sonora.

Mrs. Mayer's older son, David Hagemeyer, and his wife were expected to arrive by freighter in Antwerp this week. There they will rent a car and drive to Schloss Stein in Germany to meet their daughter, Ann, 18, and their son John, 16, who have been in school there since last August. The whole family will then spend two months driving through Germany and Switzerland, and will all sail back to America in August, possibly returning home by way of Canada.

Before leaving for Europe, the Hagemeyers visited Louis Mayer in Fishkill, New York, where he has a summer home. They left their car there and will pick it up on their return. Mrs. Mayer, who is still in Carmel, may join her husband in Fishkill later.

A Luncheon and a Recital

A "musical luncheon" was given Saturday by Bernice Holyoake at her piano studio on Pescadero Road. The guests, pupils of Mrs. Holyoake ranging in age from eight up into the teens, after lunch presented a program of piano music. They were Marjorie Black, Marilyn Lane, Marsha Lane, Debbie Munroe, Terry Head, Jeanie Hudelson, Cynthia Postel, Larissa Robinson and Joey Johnson.

Bowls of yellow roses and pale yellow tapers decorated the lace-covered table on which stood a birthday cake, iced with pink roses, in honor of Mrs. James Buffington, Sr., who was 93 years old on May 16.

Her family and a few close friends who gathered at Mrs. Buffington's Carmel Point home to wish her happiness that afternoon included her son, Councilman James C. Buffington, Jr., and Mrs. Buffington; her daughter, Miss Ruth Buffington; her granddaughter, Mrs. Vincent Colletto (Betty Buffington); three great-grandchildren, Julie, Gina and James Colletto; Mrs. Peggy Owen, mother of Mrs. Buffington, Jr.; Mrs. Walter J. Johnston, Miss Edith Needham, Miss M. L. Oliver, Mrs. Helen Small, Miss Marjorie Ribbel and Miss Ora Fallis. Another granddaughter, Mary Buffington, who is attending business school in San Francisco, was unable to be present at the party.

As part of the celebration, several poems, which had been composed in Mrs. Buffington's honor by some of the guests, were read aloud.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

Divine healing is a theme of the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul and Body" to be heard at Christian Science services Sunday.

Matthew's account of the healing by Christ Jesus of the centurion's servant who was "sick of the palsy" will be included in the Scriptural readings.

One of the correlative citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds and bodies and giving a better understanding of soul and salvation" (p. 210).

Summer Travels For Cathy

When Mr. and Mrs. David Hagemeyer drove East recently on their way to Europe, they invited Cathy Dancy, older daughter of Mrs. Dan Dancy, to be their passenger. It seemed a wonderful opportunity for Cathy to visit friends and relatives in the East and in Canada, and that is just what she is doing until she meets the Hagemeyers again at the end of the summer, on their return from Europe, and drives home with them.

Cathy, a last year's graduate of Carmel High School, first visited Captain and Mrs. Hugh Laing in Washington, D.C. (the Laings also have a home in Carmel Valley), and wrote to her mother a glowing description of an Eastern spring and the dogwood in bloom.

The rest of her itinerary includes a week in New York City, and a look at Brooklyn, her birthplace; a visit at Lake Placid with Mrs. Dancy's brother, Allan Cameron, and his family; several weeks with cousins, "in a cottage on a lake" north of Toronto; then in mid-August, before meeting the Hagemeyers, a visit in Montreal with more cousins.

Welcoming Cathy home at the end of the summer will be, besides her mother, the rest of the Dancy clan—Chris, 19, who attends Monterey Peninsula College (where Cathy has also been studying); Sandy, a sophomore at Carmel High School; Rocky, a freshman at Carmel High; Candy, a sixth grader at Sunset School; and Dusty, in the kindergarten at Woods School.

Expedition To Lighthouse

Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Baylis of Menlo Park and their sons, Owen and Lloyd, spent last week end in Carmel. An event of the visit was an expedition to Point Sur Lighthouse maintained by the U. S. Coast Guard atop the rocky offshore point at the mouth of the Little Sur River.

The walk from Highway One across the windblown stretch of sand to the foot of the rock, then up the road which winds along the southern and western faces of the promontory to the lighthouse at the north end of the point was an unexpected feature of the adventure, but left the two boys, aged seven and "almost five" respectively, with plenty of energy to climb the circular stair inside the lighthouse, also to ask questions about the prisms light built in Paris in 1887. They did, however, accept piggy-back rides for part of the return trip to the highway.

Baroque Concerts on Sunday

Continuing its chamber music series on Sunday at Big Sur, Nepenthe will present Music of the Baroque Era, with Ray Fabrizio, flute, Ray Duste, oboe, Margaret Fabrizio, harpsichord and Robert Hughes, bassoon.

The concerts will be given at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon and 8:30 o'clock in the evening.

Teaching In Tuolumne County

Mrs. Madeleine Gagen, formerly of Carmel, who has been teaching in Jamestown, Tuolumne County, will next year be teaching a sixth grade in the Columbia School district, in the same county. Mrs. Gagen will be remembered by many Sunset School alumni as Miss Madeleine Curry, who taught music at Sunset during the mid-1930's.

Boys' Camping Trip to Alaska

Anthony Zufich, whose home is in upper Palo Colorado Canyon, is organizing a camping trip to Alaska this summer for a group of 12 to 14 boys aged 15 to 18. The group will travel in two buses, with occasional side trips on boats and trains, and will more or less follow the route of the early gold rush prospectors. Included on their itinerary is the Yukon, Fairbanks, McKinley Park, Kenai peninsula, and Juneau.

Mr. Zufich, who lived for five years in Alaska and taught school there before moving to the Big Sur region, has organized numerous pack trips for children into the wild area of the Santa Lucia mountains during the past two years.

The Alaska expedition will leave here June 25 and return August 20.

Ron and Ed Off To Europe

Almost as soon as Ron Faia and Ed Wilson come home from their sophomore year at Oregon State College on June 9, they will take off again. June 11 they will go by polar flight to Paris for a summer of junketing about Europe. The boys plan to rent a car, and to drive through Germany, Scandinavia, and possibly along the French Riviera.

In Paris, Ron and Ed will meet Chips Wood, a Carmel High School classmate now attending Wesleyan College whose parents, Colonel and Mrs. Oliver E. Wood are living in Paris where Colonel Wood is stationed. (Chips may stay on in Paris and study there next year.)

Flying back to New York August 20, the boys will make a detour to New Orleans for a convention of their college fraternity, Delta Tau Delta, before they come back to Carmel.

Ron is the son of Dr. and Mrs. John Faia, Jr. and Ed's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Wilson.

Carol Wise Will Wed Saturday

When Carol Wise, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Wise of Carmel, becomes the bride of Robert Arthur Cramblett at All Saints' Episcopal Church on Saturday, she will be attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert Wise, who will be her matron of honor; and Mary Jane Shellington of Wayne, Nebraska, a former Carmel High School student, as her maid of honor; and two bridesmaids, Wanda Turner of Monterey, and Mrs. Barry Buss, the former Christine Montgomery, a Carmel High School classmate of Carol's, now living in Walnut Creek.

Six-year-old Kimberly Raine of Salinas will be the flower girl.

Robert's best man will be Gregg Teaby, Jr., of Monterey, and the ushers will be Carol's three brothers, Robert, Russell and Richard Wise.

The Reverend David Hill will perform the ceremony.

Back From Hawaii

Jack Martin reports that his wife, Liz, will be flying home on Saturday after three weeks in Hawaii. With her have been her daughter, Dianne Whalen, and Vicky Walsh of Carmel Valley. Asked if he had any idea how the vacationers had been spending their holiday, Mr. Martin replied that he had heard something about "free hula lessons," "renting a jeep," and the delights of Waikiki.

Fashion Fair Winners

Margee Goulding was named homemaker of the year last night at the Fashion Fair presented by the home economics classes of Carmel High School. Runner-up was Carol Walker.

Winner of the DAR food and nutrition award was Jean Borgman and the DAR sewing and clothing award, Maxa Tadlock. Special honorary awards went to Becky Colas for citizenship and Holly Loesel for the most progress.

Chairman of the show last night was Margee Goulding, with Jean Borgman in charge of decorations; Ann Kraus, commentator; Leslie Champe, publicity; Merrie Gamble, programs; Jan Shively, invitations; Pat Sweeney, refreshments; Donna Durein, booths.

During the evening the students modeled clothing they had made and homemaking exhibits were on display.

On Cal Poly Dean's List

Three Carmel students were named to the winter quarter Dean's List at California State Polytechnic College in San Luis Obispo. Each maintained a B-grade average or better.

They were Andrea L. Weiner, a freshman majoring in mathematics; Bessie B. Waylett, a senior majoring in elementary education; and Jeffrey A. Bannister, a freshman majoring in physical sciences.

All students who maintain a B-grade average for the entire academic year are named at the end of the year to the President's List at Cal Poly. The winter quarter Dean's List included students from 47 California counties; 21 other states, two U.S. territories and 21 foreign countries.

The Rapiers Have A Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Rowen Rapier of Carmel became the parents of a daughter, Laurel Camille, on May 13 at the Peninsula Community Hospital.

A Son For The Ray Barnetts

Mrs. William Parker (Joan Mackenzie) of Carmel reports that she has "a first nephew." Mr. and Mrs. Ray Barnett (Gail Mackenzie) of Eugene, Oregon, became the parents of a son on Monday. The baby, who is their first child, has been named Aaron Joel.

Aaron's two grandmothers are Mrs. J. F. Mackenzie of Carmel and Mrs. Ray Barnett of Palos Verdes. He also has an uncle, John Mackenzie of St. Helena.

Gail and Ray are both students at the University of Oregon, where Gail, an English major, is completing her junior year, and Ray is working toward his Ph.D. in psychology. (Gail took time out for Aaron's birth, but made prior arrangements to take her final examinations later.)

Elocution Carousel

Next Tuesday evening at 7:00 o'clock Carmel High School speech classes will present an Elocution Carousel in the cafeteria, which will include pantomimes, interpretive readings of stories and poetry, a debate on Red China, and an informative speech on some matter of local interest. Nancy Baxter, a senior and the recent winner of the Lions' Club speech contest, will be the mistress of ceremonies.

First Yachting Season Events

Members and guests of The Stillwater Yacht Club will start their summer season with a Shipwreck Costume Party at the Beach Club on Tuesday. Cocktails, dinner and dancing will be the order of the evening, and conversation will center around the Stuart Haldorn Mercury Regatta at Stillwater Cove May 26, 27 and 30, as well as the full sailing schedule ahead.

Among those who have made early reservations to attend the party are: Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Huntington II, Mr. and Mrs. Seeley Mudd, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney A. Franklin, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Mark J. Raggett, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel R. Garcia, Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Catlin, Mr. and Mrs. R. Doug Baird, Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Dodd, Mr. and Mrs. George V. Yates, Mr. and Mrs. Allman J. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew C. Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Smythe.

NEW OWNERS FOR BLUE BIRD RESTAURANT

The Blue Bird Restaurant on Ocean Avenue, Carmel's oldest dining spot, has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. G. Walter LaBorie, longtime Carmel visitors, and hotel, restaurant and food people since 1931.

The former owners, the Misses Anderson, Linn and Gibbons are enjoying a well-merited rest at their retreat at Big Sur. They plan to travel extensively in the fall.

The Blue Bird has undergone extensive renovation. New broilers and other new kitchen facilities have been added, and the entire dining area has been redecorated in restful tones of green, blue and white.

All the Blue Bird staff has been retained, and the fine recipes and dishes served for many years will be continued. In addition, new items are being added with particular emphasis on foods that will appeal to the masculine palate.

Mr. and Mrs. LaBorie have purchased a home in Carmel, and will occupy it early in June.

Janet Will Chaperone Students

Janet Fehring, the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Fehring, has been chosen to chaperone a group of 35 American Field Service exchange students this summer.

One hundred and sixty students from colleges throughout the country, including five from Stanford, have been selected to accompany the foreign students on bus tours through the United States. Thus each exchange student, who has spent the past school year living with an American family in one particular community, will see something of the rest of the United States before going back to his or her native land.

Janet, a junior at Stanford, recently returned from nine months abroad, six of them spent at Stanford-in-Italy, located in Florence. She will chaperone a busload of students leaving Riverside on June 17 to tour the southern states. They will eventually rendezvous in Washington, D. C., with other groups who will arrive from different parts of the country, all of whom will be guests of various families in the communities visited along the way. Everyone will be shown around the capital city for a few days and will be received by President Kennedy. The last stop will be New York City, where the exchange students will embark for their return voyage home.

Janet and a Stanford friend, Kathy Page, also one of the chaperones, will tour the east coast together before flying back to California.

Minnie Gleason

Mrs. Minnie I. McCormick Gleason, wife of Captain H. M. Gleason (USN Ret.), died on Sunday in a local rest home. She was 83 years old and had been in ill health for some time.

Mrs. Gleason and her husband came to live in Carmel 32 years ago and maintained a home on Carmelo Street near Tenth Avenue. Recently they celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary.

A native of Bridgeport, Connecticut, Mrs. Gleason was born on December 29, 1878. She was a member of All Saints' Episcopal Church.

In addition to her husband, she leaves a sister, Miss Anna M. McCormick, and a brother, Dr. Edward McCormick, both residents of Carmel.

Private services were conducted by the Reverend David Hill, rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church, in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea.

The Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Despite Strike, Carmel Junior High May Open This Fall

In answer to one of several questions from board member Dr. Richard Snyder on what consideration the county can make for safety of school children, Wolfe said that, beyond the painting of crosswalks, his office can make no pedestrian plans, although the regular road plans call for a dirt shoulder in addition to a paved emergency parking shoulder on the new highway.

In related action, the board voted last night to employ Herbert Brownell to appraise some seven-eighths acre of school property which the county will take from the 20-acre campus as a right-of-way purchase for the new road.

Agricultural considerations on the new campus got a further boost last night when board members voted to allow purchase of a second-hand Ford tractor with rotary mower and bucket loader for $3,200. The equipment, explained Ed Goodrick, the district's mechanical supervisor, will help service the several campuses now in use in addition to the new one, with a maintenance staff of no additional members.

Late in the evening the board heard a letter from Frederick C. McNulty, asking "serious consideration" of his opinion as an architect with school design experience that "Sunset School is substandard in its protection against the three great dangers of earthquake, fire and panic." In the stage area (of the auditorium) alone, McNulty said, there are conditions of inadequate fire separation between stage and auditorium, exposed flammable structures, obstructed panic exits, dark and unlit stairs, dangerous over-crowding and jerry-rigged electrical wiring.

Although the district has passed the usual required strict fire inspections by the local fire chief, and periodic inspections of the state fire marshal, complying with their requirements, the board asked Greenfield to set an additional meeting with fire and school authorities on Sunset safety.

No decision has yet been reached by the board on the use to which Sunset will be put in the fall of 1962, although long-range plans call for re-opening the historic school as an elementary unit.

In other business the board:

Approved in principle a plan for a paperback book store at the high school. Presented to the board by seniors Karen Lane, John Hackbarth, Kathy Crawford and Steve Shore, the plan is the work of this year's graduating class, and the store would operate as a permanent memorial gift of the class.

The store, under the tentative plan, would sell at regular retail prices classic paperbacks now not available in sufficient quantities through regular retail outlets, along with College Outline Series books and other such items not available on regular newstands.

Approved sale of a 1950 Chevrolet sedan belonging to the district.

Declared Sunset's eighth grade class picnic to Bolado Park, Hollister, on June 12, a school-sponsored event so that parents' cars may be used.

Authorized summer school principal Chuck Dawson to send out informational notices setting the opening date for elementary summer school at July 2, and the high school summer school June 18. (This action was taken even though the board tabled until next meeting the administrative salary schedule for the district on which Dawson's own administrative position appears. The board also set over to next meeting consideration of the classified employees' schedule.)

Approved audio-visual and hearing testing contracts with the county superintendent of schools.

Granted approval of a change in the high school gym security system from baskets to lockers and asked a general survey of security conditions be made at the gym with a view to rearrangement of furnishings and equipment.

Approved the resignations of Mrs. Joan Agan and Mrs. Diane Austin, both elementary teachers with the district, and employment of Miss Janet Seaman as first grade instructor at Carmelo School.

After a profusion of comment, approved reimbursement of $40.60 to Dick Lawitzke for glasses broken while teaching physical education.

Planners Set Parking Study, Send Greenbelt Report To Council

(Continued from Page One) eral rental parking facilities and driveways to these parking areas, also indicate on the perimeter of the business district where parking might be extended into the residence zone.

The progress report to the council on greenbelt acquisition and a schedule for the same, prepared by Commissioner Dorothy von Meler, contained the following recommendations:

1. That the city continue acquisition proceedings for two parcels of land adjoining the city beach west of Scenic Drive south of Santa Lucia Street.

2. That the city clerk and city attorney make inquiries regarding the purchase by the city of the Crawford dune property contiguous to city-owned dune land north of Ocean Avenue and west of San Antonio Street. Also, if a reasonably agreeable price were arrived at, it might be possible to arrange a purchase agreement plan, with extended payments, to be financed an Association of Carmel Teachers' proposal to allow additional compensation for teaching experience, but did amend the present salary schedule to the extent of allowing full credit for experience elsewhere rather than only partial credit as the present schedule asks.

Trimmed $18,800 from the present preliminary budget, which in order to balance, needs an additional trimming in the amount of $13,764. Among items pared were secretarial overtime, library and supplies, maintenance and administrators' salaries.

by a bond issue or allocations from the general fund.

3. Failing the above purchase agreement, the application for reclassification of the 3.4-acre Crawford property into four building sites be considered as requested by the owner, following a topographic survey to determine metes and bounds of the land. These building sites then to be precisely zoned as to area and site lines, with setbacks and/or scenic easements.

4. That the city clerk and attorney approach the five individual property owners in the Flanders Canyon area, Forest Road to Rio Road, regarding their approval of the possibility of direct purchase by the city; or scenic easement or greenbelt dedication of the land in question, in return for possible tax or assessment readjustments.

5. That the city clerk and attorney, approach owners of the part of Flanders Canyon outside the city limits and ascertain their reaction to rezoning by the county of their land from its present R-2 classification to a classification that would preserve the natural character of the canyon that ends opposite Carmel Mission Basilica. Commissioners also approved a building permit for a 19-unit motel, plus a store and residence-office, with 20 off-street parking spaces, which Tony Vasconcellos proposes to build on eight lots at the southwest corner of Junipero and Third. Mr. Vasconcellos and his architect, Thomas Elston, were informed that the store will be located on land that is being considered for C-1-L use, also that landscaping on street frontage should be coordinated with city planting.

William C. Phelps was given approval to remodel, into stores, the interior and exterior of a former warehouse on Sixth Street near Mission.

CARMEL GIRL IN COLLISION

A Carmel girl escaped injury yesterday afternoon at 2:50 o'clock on Highway One, 189 feet south of Via Zaragosa, near the top of Carmel Hill.

According to the California Highway Patrol, a car driven by Patricia L. Warren, 18, of Carmel, southbound on the highway, was involved in a collision with an auto driven by Carol A. Donato, 21, of Seaside, also southbound, when both vehicles pulled out at the same time to pass a third car. Miss Donato was treated for minor injuries by a private physician.
